Lac la Biche Lions High Among Clubs, Arseneau Tells Members

"The Lac la Biche Lions Club ranks high among the 16,000 clubs and almost 700,000 members of the Lions International covering the world since its foundation in 1917 by the late founder, Melvin Jones," Governor Hector Arseneau told members during his official visit to the local club held recently in the banquet room of the York Hotel.

District 37B, Governor Arseneau brought greetings to the Lac la Biche Club from Lions International and the 45 Clubs in district 37B which he represents.

He congratulated the Lac la Biche club for its fine work in the past and expressed pleasure on being present at the Club's meeting and have a first hand view of the group carrying its meeting in a business like manner.

After the induction the governor congratulated each new member and commented that as members of the Lac la Biche Club and Lions International, they have joined a Club that say, "We Serve"; and they are expected to serve, as all Lions members have done in the past and will do in the future.

The governor explained the meaning of the Lions emblem and the two lions on the pin to the new members, stating that the lion looking back represented the Lions Club's achievements and good work in the past; the lion looking ahead represented the Club looking to the future progress and assistance it can give; the centre "L" represented the Club to which he belongs and that is "Lions". The circle in the middle represents the Club being worldwide, covering the globe, and the colors depict the Loyalty, Power and Friendship the member carries in the Club, among his friends, in business, to the community, country, nation and in the world.

Progress Of Open Air Rink Discussed By Town Council

At the Nov. 14 meeting of town council some time was given to discussing the progress of the open air skating rink being built near the ball park.

The building, which is well constructed on a concrete foundation, is nearing completion. The exterior will be finished with stucco but will await the warmer weather. The building is designed to be adaptable for concession booths at sports activities during the summer, as well as serve as a waiting room for skating rink in the winter.

It was decided to distribute 36 yards of crushed gravel at certain spots in the business area of town where conditions have been muddy.

One councillor mentioned that approaches to the newly constructed sidewalks were in some cases entirely too low and it was decided to build wooden steps wherever required.

Approval was given to an application for permission to open a photography studio in town. The applicant expects to be in business soon.

A permit for moving a dwelling into town was approved. Value of the dwelling is estimated at $2,000.

Two mercury vapour lights are to be installed at the skating rink and curling rink entrances. —

Supt. Turgenrud Stresses Home At Home, School Association Meet

HLYO — Mr. Turgenrud, superintendent of schools in the Lac la Biche school division, was the guest speaker at the Hylo Home and School Association meeting Nov. 17. Mr. Turgenrud spoke on the importance of the home unit in the education of children.

He stressed that the home plays a very important part in the child's development and actually forms the background of every child. Where else could a child have such an opportunity to develop confidence or the ability to make devisions, think clearly, critically and constructively or develop a sense of responsibily and purpose which will serve as a guide for living? He explained further that some authorities consider that the first seven years are the child's best formative years. That means, then, that it may be a wise thing for some parents to change their own habits and attitudes and their desires about comfort, luxury and education in order to bring out the best or give the best to their children. Too often at present parents attend clubs and parties instead of spending more time with the children and leaving them less alone or to their own devices.

The school, too, has a great responsibility and so has a church and there is no excuse to blame one of the other. All have a certain role. The parents ready a child for school; the primary grades are prepared for the secondary grades; then on to junior and senior high. If there is a failure in one place, then it is a more difficult climb in another. "No one should shirk his duties or evade obligation, least of all the parents or schools", he concluded.

Then followed the presentation of the Hylo HSA scholarships to Miss Edna Stratichuk who obtained the highest Grade nine standing in the Hylo School last year. William Sachko, who was principal of Hylo School last year and now teaches in Lac la Biche School, was on hand to present the scholarship and to congratulate Edna on being the honored winner. Edna graciously thanked Mr. Sachko and the Home and School for making this scholarship possible.

A film "A Day in the Night of Jonathon Mole" was shown which portrayed the attitudes on Racial Discrimination.

The serving of lunch concluded a most interesting and enjoyable meeting.

PLEASE SIGN YOUR LETTERS

A reminder to "letter writers" among our readers—please sign your name and address. In the first place, letters must be signed to protect the newspaper, and in the second placed, if you expect an answer you must jot down who you are and where you live. This applies particularly to letters to Voice of the People, Ann Landers and Debbie's Diary. This week we received a letter to Ann Landers which was unsigned. Miss Landers cannot answer all letters in her column due to space limitations, but she will answer the others personally if she has the address of the sender.

THIS TIP HAS PORTER SPINNING

BUFFALO — (AP) — Edward D. Parence, a porter at Buffalo airport, helped a customer unload the luggage from an automobile, then got a "tip" to end all tips.

"The car is yours," said Jack E. Teehan of Auckland, New Zealand.

Teehan handed over the keys, signed the transfer of title, waved goodby and took off with his wife for the long flight home.

Teehan, who said he was a broker and real estate man, had been touring the United States for several weeks. He bought the car, a 1955 model, in Florida for $750 but had no further use for it now that his trip was over.

Life would be simpler if the people on the earth were more sincere.

War Talk Helps Stimulate Interest In Survival

Current world events are stimulating interest in practical steps which the citzens of Canada can take towards survival in the case of nuclear attack. The nation-wide radio and TV address by the prime minister and the scope of Exercise Tocsin B are attracting wide attention.

The exercise itself was mainly devoted to a test of the communications hook-up, practice in message writing and recording. However this exercise also points up to each individual to determine what his personal survival plan should be and what he should be doing about it now.

To help prepare a personal survival plan, it is recommended that every family obtain and read the pamphlet "Eleven Steps to Survival". A free copy is available at your municipal office, or you can obtain one by writing the Alberta Emergency Measures Organization P.O. Box 275, 10320-146 Street, Edmonton, says Lt.-Col. E. W. Cormack, Director of Civil Defence M.D. of Strathcona No. 83.

Farmers Want More Compensation For Crop Damage Caused By Ducks

Athabasca county council will ask the two governments for more generous compensation for crop damages caused by ducks at no cast to the farmer.

This resolution was passed at the Nov. 9 and 10 county council meeting resulting from a meeting at Grassland. It will be presented to the convention at Edmonton.

The council considers crop damage by migratory birds is yearly increasing causing many Albertan farmers to lose revenue. Federal and provincial conservation protects these birds, but though the government restricts duck shooting, they do not protect the farmer. The wild life crop damage insurance does not compensate the farmer adequately either.

The drainage problem involving several ratepayers in the Boyle area was reported completed.

The drainage complaint of O. Rehm had been investigated. Council thought the creek should be cleaned out. As it is too late in the season now, something will be done early in the spring.

The financial statement was read.

The accounts were examined and passed for payment.

Two delegations were received.

John Pusharski was about a road. The council refused to commit themselves as to the future.

Stanley Hewko, D. A. Sadownik and D. S. Semeniuk asked for a road across one farm to serve the owner and the othertwo. Council said there are other roads in the vicinity. It would refuse to make any commitments.

New Year's eve falling on Sunday this year, was the subject of a letter setting out the legal hours of celebration. Dances cannot start until after midnight. Dance halls may be open to serve supper, but dances and shows cannot start till after the midnight hour.

A fire complaint from Charles Wallach was discussed and left until the councillor could investigate.

A letter from Calgary Power Ltd. said the commercial rate will be reduced under the new schedule. This will affect Atmore, Grassland and Ellscott areas.

Approval was given for extension of Grassland REA.

There is now a public railroad crossing at Amisk Lake. Council was notified the private crossing in the area should be closed.

Requests and complaints were received from: H. Collins for consideration of boarding allowance, which was referred to the school committee.

Peter Nakonechny, who complained a fire had damaged his fence. After an investigation council was told that the posts were blackened but not burned, and the wire was not damaged. There is a pile of debris which will be removed next spring.

A complaint from Mr. Lund that fire had damaged his spruce trees was investigated. Council will replace the trees some time next summer.

Charles Fix wants a road to his quarter, but the public works allowance for road building has been spent for this year.

Steve Rusnak, who has a service station on the NE 36-64-20-W4, has agreed to construct his own road, 66 feet clearance between the service station and the highway.

A letter was read saying the services of the Grassland Municipal Nurse will be discontinued. The reasons given were lack of personnel, better roads so people could receive medical attention, and other services being offered.

The regulations have been changed about waste disposal grounds, and the Sanitary Inspector informed the county. Waste must be piled in trenches, or natural depressiosn. Offencive material must be burned or covered with earth.

Burning is only permitted if it does not create a fire hazard and an offensive smoke. When the depression is filled it must be covered with 2 feet of soil. An adequate number of trenches must be set aside for autos and bulky items.

Nuisance Grounds were approved at SE 20-66-24-W4 for Baptiste Lake and NW 11-65-22-W4 for Colinton.

Grants were given to the Boyle and Athabasca Legion Branches of $20 each.

Lloyd Morrill, of Rochester, purchased NE 1-63-22-W4 and Hartley J. Bell and NE 5-63-23-W4 and the SW 9-63-23-W4.

The minutes of the Agricultural Service Board meeting were read.

The rate of discount for 1961 was left the same as it is: 3 percent in 60 days from the date of the mailing of the tax notice and 2 percent if paid before Dec. 1.

The rate af penalty has been changed to increase the penalty rate from 5 to 6 percent, effective March 1, 1962.

CBC TELEVISION studios were inspected by a large group following a ribbon cutting ceremony officiated by Hon. J. Percy Page, lieutenant-governor (left). Shown beside a remote control projector for slides in the automatic telecine chain are Mrs. Marcel Lambert; Mrs. M. Weinlos, wife of city alderman, Dr. Weinlos, who represented Mayor Roper at the opening; Ralph Horley, manager for CBC radio and TV, Edmonton; and Marcel Lambert, member of parliament for Edmonton West.

MOST MODERN IN CANADA:

$1,750,000 Northern Alberta TV Station Officially Opens

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's most modern television station in the dominion, CBXT, Channel 5, was officially opened last week by Hon. Percy Page, lieutenant - governor of Alberta, who cut a ribbon to mark the event. J. Alphonse Ouimet, president of the CBC, members of the Board of Broadcast Governors and other local and federal government officials were on hand. In the evening, a special concert was televised from the Jubilee Auditorium, and was seen across Canada.

A tour of the CBC studios at 8661-75 Street shows that CBXT has been designed to provide maximum efficiency, economy and flexibility, using new and improved equipment unknown when existing CBC plants were planned anywhere from seven to ten years ago. The success of the experimental features of CBXT may ultimately affect the operation of CBC stations throughout the country.

Technical advances include an unmanned remote control camera; the use of transistors in most equipment rather than tubes; automatic slide and film projection equipment that can be pre-set hours in advance of use centralized camera control permitted by the use of newer, more stable cameras; a Walkway lighting grid, and magnetic sound tracks which make better quality film easier to obtain.

No cameraman sets foot inside the studio during the production of CBXT's daily news-weather-sports-interview package or other one-camera shows. All the camera shots are called for by the producer and controlled by the switcher, both of whom are in the production booth.

The remote control camera, at the manipulation of a lever, can tilt its lenses up or down, change focal lengths to zoom in or out and pan to the left or right to follow a moving subject. Its usage is definitely restricted to one-camera shows with little movement, but on these its proponents guarantee that there is no loss of production quality.

The "metal monster" gives CBXT remarkable flexibility, in that it can provide TV coverage on short notice and at awkward hours when no camera crew would normally be on duty. This was demonstrated on Oct. 18th, when Mayor Elmer Roper of Edmonton won re-election by 9:15 p.m., scarcely 75 minutes after the polls closed. CBXT had hoped for an announcement in time for its 11:15 p.m. Metro News, yet was able to add to this coverage a brief message of acceptance by the mayor at 9:30 p.m.

CBXT's technical director, Peter Burgess, claims the unmanned camera could be used to give video appeal to news flashes, weather reports, public service messages and station indentification, previously handled like "radio with slides".

McMurray Legion To Give Essay Prize

At the Nov. 13 meeting held in the Legion Hall, McMurray it was decided to present shields to the public and separate schools to be competed for each year by students writing on essay on the meaning of Poppy Day.

The winning student's name will be engraved on the shield each year and it will hang in the grade room to which the winning student belongs. At the same time it was agreed to present to the winner an engraved medal to commemorate the occasion.

A vote of thanks was passed to all who took part in the November 11 parade and the Rev. Peter G. Harris and Mr. Hoehne for th religious ceremony in the Fort Theatre.

A special Legion curling meeting will be held in the Legion hall on Dec. 1 at 8:30 p.m. and bonspiel arrangements will be made at the next regular meeting.

PWA Says Integration New Routes With Present Service Best Plan

The comment was made by J. M. Robins, divisional superintendent of PWA, after Northwest Industries announced details of its plans to establish a regional air service on the prairie. The two companies and two others have applied to the Air Transport Board for changes in regional air service as a result of a proposal by Trans-Canada Airlines to drop its Calgary-Regina run.

Mr. Robins said PWA would place two new "Dart Herald" turbo-prop aircraft, each costing one million dollars, on the Calgary-Edmonton run. There would be four PWA flights each way daily except Sunday with one continuing to Medicine Hat, Swift Current, Regina, Yorkton, Brandon, Winnipeg and back. Under PWA proposal, Trans-Canada would retain one daily Edmonton-Calgary flight as part of its east-west services with the result that the same service as at present would be available.

There would be no change in the fare structure and the municipal airport would be used except for the one Trans-Canada flight.

The DC3 service between Edmonton, North Battleford and Prince Albert would continue twice weekly and the four flights a week would continue between Prince Albert and Regina.

With a flight daily, except Sunday, from Edmonton to Peace River and Dawson Creek PWA would have a longer air mile route than any of the three other applicants.

Robins said the pattern of local services in western Canada would be improved under PWA's proposal from the point of view of connections, equipment and reduction of flight time. He said the Dart Herald twin turbo prop has a very good "short field" performance and is cheaper to operate than a Viscount which TCA is using and Northwest would retain.

He said PWA has about a dozen large aircraft and 50 smaller aircraft at present. Integrating the additional routes with existing service would be "more efficient than breaking up the serivce between three or four carriers." He added that integration also provides the prospect that the "whole complex" will be "self-sustaining in the discernable future." At present the prairie routes are subsidized by the federal government.

Only John Deere NEW GENERATION TRACTORS offer you an exact speed and power for every job

These new tractors change all the old rules for efficient tractor operation. No longer must you operate full-throttle, one-speed-per-gear for best performance. New JOHN DEERE-Built Variable-Horsepower Engines provide governed power at any throttle setting in the operating range. Work in a lower gear at higher engine speed for more power, or throttle down, shift up, for greater economy on light jobs. New Generation JOHN DEERE Tractors offer this pinpoint control over power and efficiency in any of eight forward and three reverse speed selections. We have a new JOHN DEERE Tractor you can use to prove what we've said. See us about an on-your-farm demonstration.

The Homemaker

By Bertha M. McCutcheon
District Home Economist,
Westlock

The potato is an important Canadian food because of: the quantity produced. It grows well in most areas and is one of Canada's most important vegetable crops.

The quantity consumed. Although consumption could be increased, it is, with the exception of milk, our most commonly used food.

B. McCutcheon

The nutritional value. If properly cooked and eaten in sufficient quantity, the potato increases the nutritional value of the diet. It is the only vegetable specifically named in Canada's Food Rules, which recommend at least one daily serving of potatoes.

The quantity processed. Commercially processed potatoes, such as chips and french fries, are becoming more and more popular.

It is a common fallacy that potatoes are fattening. Weight is gained only when the total amount of food eaten furnishes more calories than are used up in activity.

One medium potato supplies about 100 calories. This is a small percentage of the Canadian Dietary Standard average daily requirement of 2400 calories for the moderately active man. The amounts of the foods listed in Canada's Food Rules as a daily minimum, provide the required protein, minerals and vitamins but not the total calories needed to meet our Canadian standard.

Potatoes are an important source of Vitamin C: one medium sized potato, if properly cooked, will supply nearly half of our daily requirement of this vitamin, plus B vitamins and an appreciable amount of minerals, especially iron.

Potatoes can be compared with other foods in caloric value as follows:

piece of pie	300 calories
doughnut	200 calories
piece of fudge	100 calories
2 tablespons sugar	100 calories
cup cooked white rice	200 calories
medium potato	100 calories

This information is taken from a publication of the Consumer Section Canada department of agriculture, OTTAWA, Canada.

The title is POTATOES. It may be obtained free upon request from the above address. This booklet includes a great variety of potato recipes, as well as other useful information which I heartily recommend to all homemakers.

DEBBIE SELMES . . . too young to die

Alberta Launches Drive For Muscular Dystrophy Sunday

Arthur Minden, Q.C,. president of The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada, says that the association's annual fund raising campaign will take place during the week of Nov. 19 - 25, and that Debbie Selmes, 6-year-old victim of MD, will again be campaign poster child.

Debbie is a cheerful little girl who does not suspect that she will not live beyond her teens. Her young sister is also a victim of MD, and their mother has years of tending these helpless children until their brief lives are concluded.

After seven years, during which time MDAC has poured over a million and a half dollars into research, scientists have yet to discover the fundamental cause of MD, although they have been able to induce it in some animals by eliminating Vitamin E from their diet.

One of the leads being followed in laboratories involves work being done with the rare element known as selenium. Selenium is highly toxic to human beings, but it has been found that adding minute amounts of it to the diet of chickens kept them from developing a type of muscular dystrophy to which they are subject. It was also discovered that selenium could cure types of muscular dystrophy that affect lambs and calves.

Because of selenium's toxic nature, scientists are going slow in attempting to use it on human beings. As Dr. A. T. Milhorat of MDAC's National Medical Advisory Board says, "I wouldn't want to give selenium to any patient without knowing a great deal more about its metabolism than we know today. Present-day methods are clumsy. A tooling-up phase will be necessary first."

Was Democritus the first man who taught the atomic theory? —A. G. F.

The atomic theory was said to have originated with Leucippus and was adopted and expanded by Democritus. This orignal theory was a philosophic rather than a scientific doctrine. The development of the scientific atomic theory started with John Dalton, who wrote his first paper on it in 1803.
